About College :-

Realizing the valuable service that nursing as a profession provides to society, BLDEA established BLDEA's School of Nursing in 1990. It was further upgraded and renamed Shri B.M. Patil Institute of Nursing Sciences in 1998. Recognized by the Government of Karnataka, KSNC and INC, New Delhi & affiliated with RGUHS, Bangaluru, the institute aims to provide students with a balanced curriculum that combines theory, practice, and orientation to modern medical practices.

The institute's added advantage is BLDE Association's Shri B. M. Patil Medical College, Hospital and Research Centre, which serves as a training ground for all nursing students. The hospital is equipped with ultra-modern facilities to give students a contemporary perspective on the medical world. Besides, participation in a variety of community health programmes offers students an understanding of society's healthcare needs.

About SOCHNI :-

SOCHNI was registered in 2008. (Reg.No.) SOR/BLU/DR/1160/2008-09, SOCHNI was started with a call to serve its individual members in enabling and empowering them to serve the community at large and to protect the professional interests of the Community Health Nurses. The challenges and exciting opportunities have emerged for Community Health Nursing in the twenty-first century with the community becoming the focal point for health care. Community Health Nurse is in a unique position to provide leadership in evolving managed care and integrated health system. The knowledge and skill to assist the client in moving across the health care continuum have been obtained from the past. But the health system has changed rapidly in the past cannot be the only indicator for providing direction in practice – circumstances are new and accordingly we (SOCHNI) must think anew and act anew.

Aim of Conference :-

The aim of the International conference on 'Revolution and New Outlook in Community Health Nursing: Education, Skills, and Research' is to promote, assist, and develop research activity and innovation among community health professionals.

Objectives :-

- Acknowledge the professional paths in public health.
- Recognize the significance of Artificial Intelligence in Public Health: Global Perspectives.
- To emphasize the global perspective and impact of digital nursing on nurses.
- Recognize the global action plan for public health.
- Understand the role of CHOs in Universal Health Coverage.
- Explore evidence in public health and integrate a multidisciplinary approach..
- To explore digital nursing.
- Nurses' contributions to climate change and health.
